

DRYS ALARMED BY REACTION TO SAHARA'S LAWS

Fight for Wine and Beer Shows Wide Revolt.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
Washington, D. C., May 14.—[Special.]—The national drive for beer and light wine, under the direction of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, is beginning to attract attention and to arouse the anxiety of the Anti-Saloon league.

The association is fighting for the nomination and election of representatives and senators committed to an amendment of the Volstead act regarding intoxicating beverages in such manner as to authorize the manufacture and sale of beer of 2.75 alcoholic content and of wine of a somewhat higher percentage.

According to the association, the movement to liberalize the prohibition law is gathering momentum throughout the country. It makes no claim of carrying congress for its cause in the November election, but it does predict the election of a sufficient number of liberal senators and representatives to signalize the turning of the tide against the extreme prohibitionists.

Primaries Show Cleavage.
The primaries held so far do not indicate any widespread reaction against the Volstead act, which defines intoxicating beverages as those containing more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol or more.

A dry congressman was defeated by a former distiller in Peoria, Ill., a Democratic candidate for congress was nominated on a wet platform in Indianapolis, and in many other cities the voters gave evidence of a desire for the legalization of beer and light wine. In the rural communities, however, the bone drys appeared to be as strong as ever, if not stronger.

Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon league, paid his respects today to the platform adopted at a convention of the opponents of prohibition in Maryland, which endorsed the objects of the association and declared for light wines and beer.

He Suspects All Opponents.
This adopted platform clarifies the issue and reveals the intention of the wet to subvert the eighteenth amendment," said Mr. Wheeler.

"The Association Against the Prohibition Amendment specifically advocates the repeal of the national prohibition act enacted to enforce the eighteenth amendment. If they should succeed there would be no federal law and no federal officers to enforce the eighteenth amendment. This is clearly nullification by repealing the laws necessary to enforce."

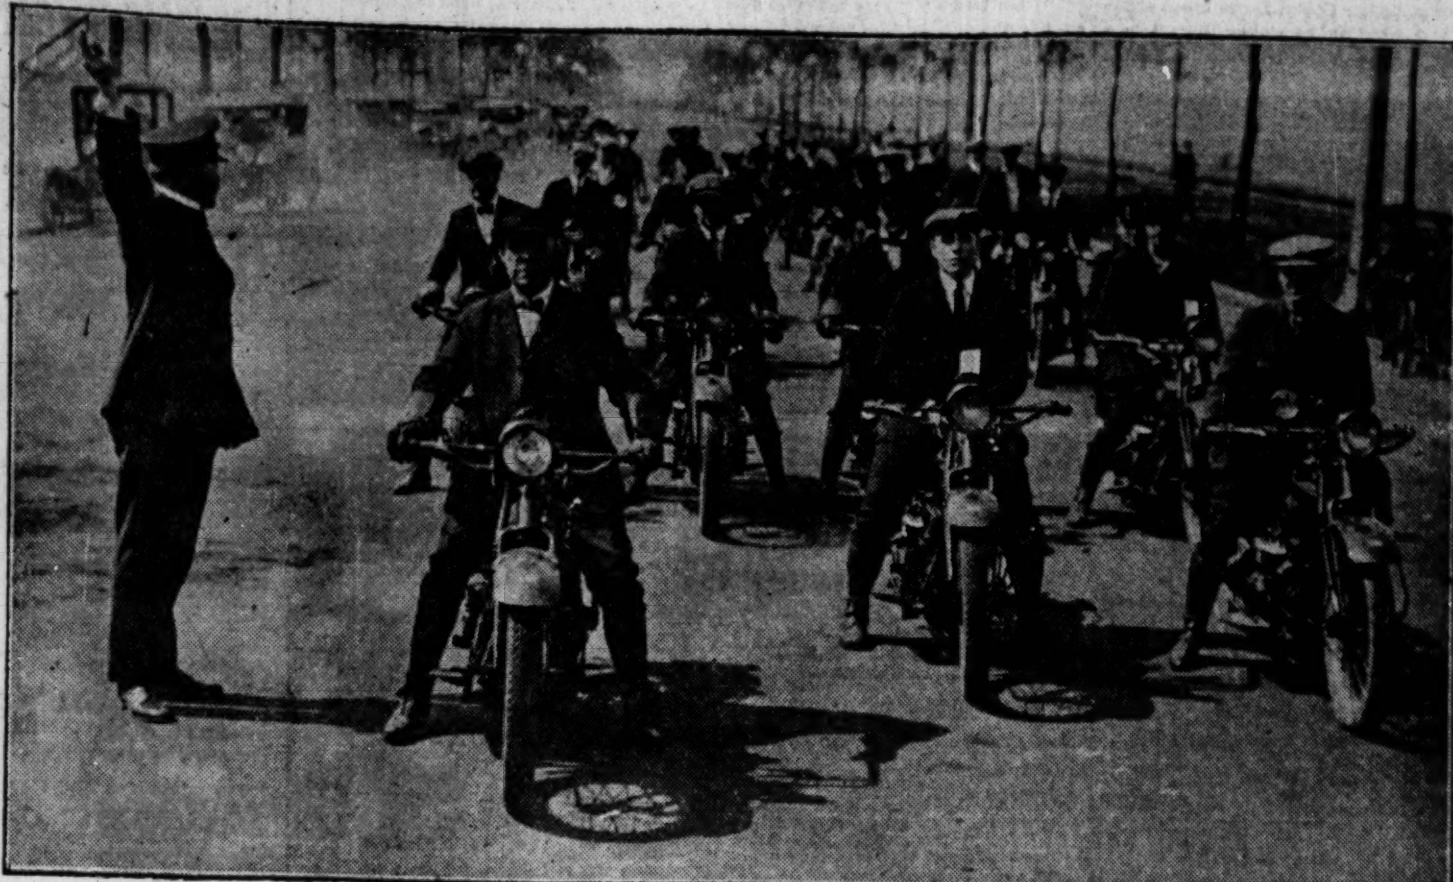

"To cover this indefensible program this wet organization advocates leaving to every state the enforcement of prohibition through state laws alone. States having prohibition opponents of the amendment are urged to support the national prohibition, but wet states would remain wet and we should be exactly where we were before the eighteenth amendment was adopted."

Any Opposition Is Illegal.
The wet states would be liquor centers for the illegal distribution of intoxicating liquors throughout the nation. Destruction of the legal machinery necessary for enforcement means nullification just as effectively as organized open resistance to the law.

"The lowest alcoholic limit asked for in beer is 2.75 per cent. Thirty-six states have adopted the one-half per cent standard; three the one per cent standard.

"Congress cannot legalize 2.75 per cent beer in the thirty-nine states in which it is prohibited by state law. A senator or congressman who votes against the standard set by his own state and maintained by legislative enactment or referendum vote will have a hard time to explain his position."

GETTING READY TO DEAL WITH EMERGENCIES

The motorcycle police are recognized as one of the most important branches of the force, but they have heretofore been scattered throughout the city. Recently the motorcycle men have been drilled as one unit in order that they may be mobilized readily in case of an emergency that would require their formation in squadrons. The picture shows them at a halt during one of the drills.

DESPITE BLACK EYE, PRINCE GOES TO WOOD'S LUNCH

MANILA, P. I., May 14.—[By the Associated Press.]—The Prince of Wales, with blackened eye and bandaged forehead, lunched with Governor General Leonard Wood of the Philippines today.

The heir to the British throne suffered a bruised eye and slightly cut forehead when he was hit by a polo ball, but today he insisted he again would play polo tomorrow upon returning from Cavite.

The prince slept late this morning, and consequently his proposed trip to Fort McKinley with Gen. Wood was abandoned. He also had planned to attend church, but this was prohibited by his physician, who ordered the prince to remain quiet until noon, when he disembarked from the cruiser Renown for luncheon with Gen. Wood. In the late afternoon the prince was the guest of Manila's British community at a tea dance at the Manila club. Tonight he gave a dinner aboard the Renown in honor of Gen. Wood.

REVENUE BUREAU TO MAKE REFUND OF $20,000,000

Washington, D. C., May 14.—Congress may be asked for an appropriation to enable the internal revenue bureau to make refunds of approximately $20,000,000 as a result of the recent decision of the Supreme court in the Schwab case, Commissioner Blair announced tonight.

The decision in that case, he explained, was to the effect that a transfer made in contemplation of death prior to Sept. 8, 1916, was not to be included in the gross revenue estate of a decedent under the provisions of the revenue act of 1916.

There has been much speculation of money the government will have to refund as a result of the decision, and one New York attorney was quoted in a published statement as placing the estimate between $100,000,000 and $200,000,000.

RICH YOUTH SLAIN IN APRIL; FOUND IN EMPTY HOUSE

Okmulgee, Okla., May 14.—[By the Associated Press.]—The body of Russell Eldred, member of a wealthy family, was found today in the Eldred residence by an agent who had gone to open the house in preparation for the return of Mrs. E. B. Eldred, the boy's mother, from Pennsylvania. Police say he had been dead about a month.

The room showed evidence of a terrific struggle. Two pistols found in the room showed no signs of having been used.

Eldred accompanied his mother to Pennsylvania last fall, where she went to be at the bedside of her father, who was ill, and stayed with her there until March 2. The boy's return here is a mystery. The fact that he was in the city was unknown to anyone.

Egypt Nationalists Send Sheik ul Islam a Protest

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
CONSTANTINOPLE, May 14.—The Egyptian nationalists have protested to Sheik ul Islam, the religious head of the Moslems, against the pretensions of King Fouad to the Egyptian throne, stating that the appointment was made by England, and hence is illegal, as their religion demands that the caliph appoint a king for a Moslem state. Sheik ul Islam answered evasively.

President and Party at Home After Golf Vacation

Washington, D. C., May 14.—President Harding and his party, who spent the week-end with Senator Edge (N.J.) at the Sea View Golf club, near Absecon, N. J., arrived at the White House a few minutes before midnight last night. The return trip was made in a continuous rainstorm from Wilmington.

SEMOFF ALIBI SENT TO SENATE; TESTIFIES SOON

New York, May 14.—[Special.]—A denial that Gen. Gregory Semoff, held under bond here, was a bandit in Russia or participated in the slaughter of Americans in the expeditionary forces in Siberia, has been sent to every member of the senate by Semoff's friend and adviser, Col. George Kroupsky. Semoff is soon to appear before a senatorial committee at Washington.

"Gen. Semoff," wrote Kroupsky, "was under authority of Admiral Kolchak, supreme ruler in the all-Russian provisional government."

"Gen. Semoff was 2,000 miles away from the scene of the armed clash between the Russian armored train and the American forces at Pustolovka, in Siberia. Capt. Popoff, commanding the Russian forces involved, was found guilty and shot. Gen. Bogomietz, in command of all armored trains, was sentenced to thirty days in prison, and served his term."

Pajamas and Soup and Fish Mingle in Combat

New York, May 14.—[Special.]—Huge Spange, a mechanical engineer, wanted his wife treated for a sprained ankle in a hurry. He telephoned Dr. Shirley Sprague at 1 a. m. that he was bringing his wife for medical attention. When Spange arrived, via taxi, the doctor was still dressing. Spange announced his wife was in pain in the taxi, and unless she were treated at once he would knock the doctor's block off. The doctor resented the threat. A fight followed, and continued into the street—Mr. Spange in evening dress and the doctor in pajamas. Then along came the police. Spange was arrested for assault. His wife was treated by an ambulance surgeon.

BOTH CONFIDENT AS END NEARS IN STILLMAN CASE

Defense Calls Notes Hard Blow to Baby Guy.

New York, May 14.—[Special.]—The case against Mrs. Anne Urquhart Stillman and Guy Stillman will go to Referee Daniel J. Gleason on Wednesday without any further effort by the defense to disprove the four "15,000" letters which James A. Stillman got into the record at Poughkeepsie on Friday.

The defense, it was ascertained, expects to rely on Mrs. Stillman's denial on the stand that she ever penned the endearing missives to Fred K. Beauvais, Indian guide, co-respondent, who is alleged to have sold the letters to Mr. Stillman's agent, Guy.

This turn in the suit brought out the opinion from lawyers, who have followed the two years of sensational litigation, that a decision on the divorce issue was unlikely for either Mrs. Stillman or her banker husband, and that the case for Guy did not appear as bright as it had up to the time of the sudden introduction of the letters.

Guy's Lawyer Confident.
John E. Mack, Poughkeepsie attorney, who is guardian ad litem for the blonde haired, infant co-defendant, was certain, however, that Guy would be adjudged lawfully entitled to share in the $6,000,000 trust fund established by the late James Stillman for the children of his son, despite James A. Stillman's charge that Beauvais is Guy's father.

As for Mrs. Stillman, who had returned to her home at 190 Fifth avenue, late Friday night after the stormy hearing, she remained today in seclusion. She saw no one and no one saw her. She sent out word to reporters that she did not expect to have anything more to say for three days.

James F. Brennan, Mrs. Stillman's attorney, denied the authenticity of the four letters alleged to have been sold to the Stillmans by Beauvais through James Sheehan, a New York reporter. Mr. Brennan called the introduction of the letters a happy incident for the defense, inasmuch, he said, as it justified the charge that it put the Stillman case on a "money basis," and showed that the banker was willing to buy evidence.

Mrs. Stillman, he emphasized, denied writing the letters when she took the witness stand.

Freedom Costs Big Money.
Mr. Stillman's victory, if he gains one, will be at the expense of a tremendous expenditure of money. William Rand, who is appearing for the banker, is said to be receiving $1,000 a day. Referee Gleason is receiving $150 a day and other counsel on both sides are receiving proportionately high fees. The case, it is estimated, will cost at least $500,000.

Tomorrow Noon—

May 16 will mark an event for the host of epicures who have for many years held their rendezvous at KUNTZ-REMMER'S. For weeks decorators have been painting and brightening up the familiar room as well as the ladies dining-room and banquet rooms on the second floor.

Even the chef, who for fifteen years has been instructing KUNTZ-REMMER patrons in the joy of eating such food, will perpetuate the culinary fame of this noted restaurant.

During the summer season KUNTZ-REMMER'S will be open from 11 a. m. to 9 p. m. (except Sundays.) A la carte service will prevail at all hours, and from 5 to 8 o'clock, a tasty table d'hôte dollar dinner will be served.

IRISH PACT FOES RELENT IN FIGHT ON PLEBISCITE

Proposed New Dail Will Take Treaty Oath.

BY PAUL WILLIAMS.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
DUBLIN, May 14.—Progress towards peace between the opposing political factions and their supporting armies is understood to have been made by the Dail Eireann's conciliation committee. A rough draft of the terms is understood to include the following:

Vacating of about fifteen seats in the Dail occupied by lesser lights.

Division of these seats, according to present political complexion, and a selection of more influential men as candidates to take them.

The election on June 12 is to be an agreed election—that is, all members of the present Dail, with the above named exceptions, will run again without opposition.

The Dail to be elected will act as a constitutional assembly to pass finally on a draft of a constitution prepared by a committee under the provisional government.

Place Treaty Before Voters.

Harry Boland, leader of the anti-treaty forces, has contended that no issue should be decided at the coming election, but he seems to have receded somewhat on this stand, and the treaty will be placed before the people with the constitution.

With the treaty indorsed, the oath the Dail members take will be that incorporated in the treaty, and this will permit the entrance into the new parliament of four members from Trinity college who are unionists. They refused to swear allegiance to the republic and have never taken their seats.

Whether Eamon de Valera and Michael Collins will be candidates or will take some post in the coalition government after the election seems undetermined.

Should the peace negotiations finally break down, it is certain that the provisional government will attempt to carry out the treaty plebiscite on June 12.

Heavy Firing in Belfast.

BELFAST, May 14.—[By the Associated Press.]—There was fierce firing, in which the military participated, late this afternoon in the Townsend street district between Falls road and Shankill road. Two women and one man were wounded.

Indicative of the familiarity of the people of Belfast with the shooting affray, pedestrians this afternoon paraded Royal avenue and other main arteries of the city apparently unconcerned with the sharp encounter that was going on within a half mile of them.

A girl was shot dead here tonight, and woman who was wounded in the firing in Townsend street died in the hospital. This makes four deaths for the week end.

Four special constables were wounded, two of them seriously, when a patrol of which they were members

TELEPATHY IS DOYLE'S 'GHOST', SAYS MINISTER

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle hears something, just as he claims, but it is a message from the living, and not from the dead.

This was the explanation the Rev. E. L. Eaton gave yesterday of Sir Arthur's account of spooks and spirits. Dr. Eaton preached in the Third Presbyterian church on the subject, "Can We Talk with the Dead?"

"Thought transference, telepathy, clairvoyance represent certain psychic facts," Dr. Eaton said. "But messages come from some one having these thoughts and not from the dead. No medium ever revealed a fact not already known to some one."

BY THOMAS B. DRAYTON.
Seward, Alaska, May 1.—Among the intelligent people of Alaska there is no opinion of opinion, no shadow of doubt, that a continuance of the present bureaucratic system of government will eventually result in the virtual depopulation of the territory.

Already many sections of Alaska formerly occupied by a greater or less extent by white pioneers have witnessed the exodus of the last white settler, and are again parts of the primeval wilderness. The permanent inhabitant, the man attached to the soil, is already virtually a memory of other days.

Those of us who remain are experiencing the brutal disillusionment that came to white men more readily. In fact, the sole reason we remain in Alaska is because we are too poor to get away.

Gloomy Picture Painted.
Some of us expect to die in Alaska, and those who do, feel themselves too old to start life again under a new and strange environment. Few men in Alaska under 50 could be found who would not eagerly seize an opportunity to get out if given transportation and assured of a fairly certain means of livelihood in the States. A limited number of tradesmen are in moderately comfortable circumstances, but these have gradually absorbed the resources of the communities in which they operate.

The rank and file of the people remaining in Alaska are not more than jumps ahead of the wolf.

To shift from generalities to concrete facts, it may be said that outside of the mercantile and professional classes not an Alaskan in twenty can afford the luxury of sheets and pillow cases on his bed; not one out of fifty owns two decent suits of clothes; not one out of a hundred has the use of a bathtub; and some out of a thousand but dream of the hour when he can escape from Alaska to a new home where hope and opportunity are not closed to him and to his children.

Starving Amidst Plenty.
And this condition exists in a country literally bursting with natural wealth, where a few years ago everybody was prosperous, everybody happy, and everybody considered himself a permanent established factor in the founding of a great and flourishing state.

When the potential wealth of Alaska first began to be realized abroad, fads and doctrinaires took instant notice. The federal bureau in Washington were equally alert and prompt in attaching their stamp to bewildered Alaska. The development of the territory had already received an immense stimulus. The urge of achievement was in every man's heart. The future greatness of the country seemed assured.

In quick succession one bureaucratic agency after another swooped down upon the defenseless land. New fangled administrative fads and experiments followed fast and furiously upon the heels of each other. Gradually enterprise was strangled and the wheels of business came to a stop. Men of better judgment at once abandoned the territory.

Country a Total Loss.
The more optimistic hung on. Things went from bad to worse until they have finally culminated in the social and industrial collapse of the country. Today no other region of the earth of such natural wealth and advantages is at so low an ebb. Tomorrow the country will be virtually deserted. Bureaucracy and faddism is the answer.

The triumph of bureaucracy was great, but the catastrophe to Alaska was greater. Wiser men read the purpose in its earlier stages and fled the country while there was yet time to save something from the impending wreck. Those of us who remained gambled with chance and lost.

The net result, and the ultimate result, has been that the hardy stock which blasted open and exposed the wonders of this great storehouse of natural wealth is now divided into two separate classes.

The larger and more important class consists of the exiles now domiciled in Canada or the States. These men are bitter, resentful, and skeptical of any measure proposed by the American government for the redemption of Alaska.

Fruit of Bitter Experience.
They know bureaucracy from bitter experience, and know well that no relief will ever be afforded, suffering Alaska at the expense of bureaucratic authority and bureaucratic jobs if bureaucratic influence in Washington can prevent it. Men of this type will never again take up a residence in Alaska. Their return is hopeless, independently of what real or ostensible amelioration the congress may attempt.

The other class consists of those of us who have for one reason or another, mostly poverty, been unable to escape. Tragic as it may be, and humiliating as it may be to confess it, those of us who remain have outlived our usefulness as a virile, dominant force in society.

Our nerve is gone; our morale vitiated to the point of ineptitude. We are simply hanging on, hoping by some miracle to realize a trifle from what little we have left and then to escape. We are whipped, cowed, and of broken spirit; down and out for good. What the physical forces of nature could not do the American government has done through the administrative agencies it has let loose upon us.

New Blood Vital Today.
Manifestly then, an infusion of new blood will be necessary even if the incubus of bureaucracy be removed, which is highly improbable.

The question naturally arises, where will this necessary new blood come from? The great gold placer diggings which attracted our original white population, at least 80 per cent of them, are no more. They have been worked out. This refers to the rich diggings; the only kind attractive to the hardy, adventurous prospector.

The oft heard saying that Alaska's mineral surface has scarcely been scratched is a pure fiction. It has been prospected up and down and crosswise. Limitable low grade places abound, and will in time produce vastly greater amounts of gold than all the rich diggings put together, but it is distinctly a rich man's game. The same is true of lead mining.

Then, our richest mines are in the sea; our fisheries. But these have been seized by foreign corporations which invade our shores for a few weeks each season, bringing in their own ships the necessary provisions and equipment, in addition to their labor, which is later paid off in Seattle or San Francisco.

Fisheries Nearly Exhausted.
Besides, intensive fishing has depleted our fisheries almost to the vanishing point in many sections, and no practical fisherman doubts that a few years more will witness the total extermination of the Alaska salmon, and possibly of the halibut and herring. The fur seal industry was long ago seized and monopolized by the bureaucracy. Whaling has ceased to be an important industry.

The reindeer business could easily be developed into an industry of incalculable value to Alaska and to society at large, but bureaucracy has affixed the veto sign to it, on the theory that the intrusion of white men into it will be inimical to native interests; which means in fact to bureaucratic jobs.

Agriculture in Alaska is in a purely experimental stage. The published stories of agricultural activities in Alaska are but dreams which chambers of commerce and other professional boosters hope will come true.

As a stock raising country Alaska would be ideal for three months in the year. But domestic cattle cannot

QUEEN MOTHER OF BALKANS MAY VISIT U. S. SOON

BUCHAREST, May 14.—[By the Associated Press.]—Queen Marie of Roumania may visit the United States next fall. Since the signing of the armistice the queen has been planning to go to the United States, but pressing affairs in her own country and the expense of the long land and ocean journey have deterred her. Now invitations from friends and petitions from women's clubs and civic societies are pouring in on her so fast that she finds it difficult to resist them.

While the queen has not received an official invitation from President Harding, it is known that the American government would welcome and entertain her. The Roumanian government, however, would prefer that the queen receive a formal invitation from the White House in order that there might be no mistake concerning her status. The queen said that if she went to the United States it would be with the object of seeing the country and thanking in person the thousands of Americans who helped Roumania so generously during and after the war. She said it was absurd to think that she would engage in any motion picture enterprise.

London Times Praises Ambassador Harvey's Work

LONDON, May 14.—The Times prints a special article reviewing the first year's work of George Harvey, as American ambassador at the Court of St. James, and paying tribute to his efforts to smooth away existing misunderstandings between England and America.

These things, mining, fishing, fur raising, agriculture, stock grazing, exhaust the possibilities of productive industry in Alaska with the exception of one industry, pulp and paper manufacture, which requires a separate notice. Bureaucracy relaxed its rigid prohibitions sufficiently a year or so ago to permit some men to try out pulp making. They lasted three months or so and suspended operations. Business cannot live where bureaucracy reigns.

Alaska can be developed now only by great combinations of capital. With capital given a fair chance, and the hope of reward commensurate with its risks, the country would soon thrive with industry. The immense demand for labor would soon populate the country.

Only Capital Can Save It.
Development can never come along the lines it would have originally. Business and industry will never come to Alaska while bureaucracy remains. Bureaucracy will never surrender its grip while jobs are soft and pay secure. Meanwhile Alaska is returning to its primeval state with ever accelerated speed.

Truly, the statesman has a man's size job cut out for him, and it will be many years before a solution of the Alaskan problem is attained. Make-shifts and expedients galore will doubtless be tried out, but what the ultimate solution will be no man can tell. But one thing is certain, that any scheme predicated upon the theory that men will strive without hope of personal reward is doomed to failure.

OBREGON OUSTS YANKEE GUNMEN FROM TAMPICO

Hears of Gang Plan to Terrorize Oil District.

BY JOHN CORNYN.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
Mexico City, May 14.—President Obregon, in an interview with the Tribune correspondent, said that the confessions of prisoners taken near Tampico show that numerous American filibusters among them are ready to lead various bands to terrorize the oil district. It is not known whether they are working in their own interest or if they are inspired by outsiders.

All these men will be expelled from the country, according to a decree issued by President Obregon today.

The decree also offers means of handling American tramps, coming to this country in increasing numbers.

President Obregon confirmed the statement that Señor de la Huerta is going to New York about May 20 for purely financial ends.

Speaking of the Mexican foreign debt, he said that one cannot pay more than the extent of his capital. Mexico is ready to pay its debts as soon as creditors offer such conditions for payment as Mexico can meet. He said he hoped De la Huerta's trip to New York would result in an offering of such conditions.

Lets Guatemala Alone.

To the question, "Will the Mexican government recognize Guatemala?" Señor Obregon replied: "Mexico has no right to impose conditions on Guatemala's management of its own internal affairs, since Guatemala is a sovereign nation. If the present government of Guatemala suits the people of Guatemala, which it apparently does, since the election was overwhelmingly in favor of the present government, Mexico has no right to withhold its recognition of the Guatemalan government."

"Is Mexico aiding Americans in the United States who are advocating Mexican recognition?" was asked. "In no way, financially, diplomatically, or socially," Señor Obregon replied. "Mexico feels grateful to them for working to a better understanding between the two countries, but it does not believe that mixing of government and private efforts is decorous or fitting to the government. All those who are working for the cause are considered self-evident friends, but friends to whom we cannot reach out our hands to help."

Agrarian Lands Unaffected.

Discussing the decision of the Supreme court declaring article XXVII of the constitution was not retroactive, Señor Obregon said that it did not apply to lands concerned in the agrarian problem, since the agrarian laws define clearly these relations. The trouble in the agrarian question is that the administrators of law often do not carry out the spirit of the law. The agrarian law defines when and under what conditions the appropriation of lands is legal. Further, regulations are regulations which must come from congress, and not from the Supreme court, the latter having the power only to interpret the constitutionality of the law or the meaning of the same.

Señor Obregon denied that the government is backing any one political party. He said that in Latin American countries, where it has been the custom for many years for the government to direct the election in its own favor and overawe the opposing parties, it is almost impossible to make the political leaders believe that the government is not backing any political party.

MEXICO'S PROBLEMS

An interview with President Obregon of Mexico discloses that he has ordered expelled American gunmen who have been smuggled into Tampico to terrorize the country. The same order is expected to cause the removal of the swarm of tramps that are going over the border from the United States. Señor Obregon said that Mexico would not interfere in the affairs of Guatemala.

HUERTA TO TALK COLD CASH WHEN HE REACHES N. Y.

Definite Proposals That Mexico Pay.

BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.

Washington, D. C., May 14.—(Special.)—Secretary of the Treasury Adolfo de la Huerta's forthcoming visit to New York city and Washington, according to confidential information received here today in high official circles, is likely to have a more far-reaching effect than has been anticipated.

Included in the primary phase of De la Huerta's mission, which touches the fundamentals of Mexico's relations with the United States and other foreign countries, will be proposals for the settlement of the foreign debts of his country, including all defaulted payments, and these proposals will be made to the bankers of Spain, Belgium, France and England as well as to those of New York city.

Brings Definite Proposals.

Secretary de la Huerta is coming here with definite proposals for the liquidation of all these outstanding obligations, the substance of which has been communicated by him to Mr. Lamont, chairman of the international bankers' committee. These proposals have been agreed upon by Mr. Lamont and his associates as a suitable basis for the June negotiations.

The Mexican finance minister could not afford to come to the United States upon a mission of this character to be undertaken by him, it was explained here today, without definite assurances of a successful outcome to his errand, and for that reason delayed acceptance of the invitation tendered by Mr. Lamont to meet the international bankers in New York, until assured that the bankers would ask nothing from Mexico except the payment or the funding of her debts.

Assume European Debts.

It appears that Secretary de la Huerta and Mr. Lamont will propose to the European sections of the international bankers' committee that all Mexican external debts be assumed by the bankers of New York city, headed by Mr. Lamont and the Morgan group, who will make payment at once. The government of Mexico will then make arrangements with Lamont and his associates for a definite schedule of payments, with certain specified revenues set aside for that purpose.

ECONOMY BEGINS TO SHOW GREAT BENEFIT TO NAVY

Washington, D. C., May 14.—Equipment to extend the radio communication scope of sixty submarines from about fifty to 500 miles has been purchased by the navy department, it was learned today, with savings in engineering maintenance funds made by engineering personnel afloat.

The extent of the economies in use of engineering supplies on the active ships and the steadily increasing degree to which the engineering forces on the ships are making their own repairs afloat, it was said at the department, has been astonishing and reflects the zeal with which the entire service has thrown itself into the task of bettering the navy by its own direct efforts.

Another project now in progress, it was added, would make a material increase in the cruising radius of the battleship fleet, with resulting large annual savings in fuel consumption.

INNOCENT UNTIL PROVED GUILTY, IS PACKERS' STATUS

Washington, D. C., May 14.—Secretary Wallace, in a statement commenting on the recent decision of the supreme court upholding the validity of the Packers and stock yards act, tonight reiterated that the department of agriculture did not intend to act arbitrarily in enforcing that law.

"We shall not assume that men are rascals until they have been proved to be such," he said. "We take it for granted that various people who are under the supervision of this law will be glad to cooperate with us in eliminating any abuses or unfair practices which, intentionally or otherwise, may have grown up as this great industry has developed."

Opportunity will be given in each case, he said, for the person or corporation complained of to correct voluntarily any practices which may seem to be in violation of the law.

6 WEEKS' CAMP FREE, BOYS, FOR ESSAYS ON T. R.

Win Vacation with Your Roosevelt Story.

Six weeks of real sport and outdoor life free for boys over 12 years of age is offered by THE TRIBUNE at Camp Roosevelt this summer for the five winners in an essay contest on Theodore Roosevelt.

Essays must not be more than 300 words in length. The contest closes June 15. No entries will be accepted after that date.

It is expected that five others will be selected from among authors of the best essays published for a similar offer of six weeks to Camp Roosevelt.

Rules of Contest.
Copies of manuscripts must be original, written on one side of the paper only and accompanied by the writer's name, address, the school he attends, and addressed to Essays, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE. Any boy living in Chicago or vicinity is eligible.

Send in your essay and tell the other boys about it. Maj. F. L. Beals of the United States army, who commands the camp, said he was certain public-spirited citizens would offer five free trips to the camp for six weeks in addition to the five prizes THE TRIBUNE offers.

Summer school at Camp Roosevelt opens July 6 and ends August 25. A junior camp will be set aside for the boys who attend. The camp is located on 250 acres of land near Laporte, Ind., an ideal site, army men say.

No Cost to Boys.

An unusual vacation which will cost nothing is offered to the winners of this essay contest. Every boy over 12 has a chance. It's the kind of a vacation you dreamed about, boys, when you were gazing out of the school window on those balmy spring days, wishing you were any place except within the four walls of the old school house.

But you probably learned enough about Theodore Roosevelt to write the winning essay in that same schoolhouse. It's worth trying for. Don't forget, there may be more than five winners chosen. Send in your essay before it is too late to get in the contest.

For an essay of 300 words you may be rewarded with a free vacation that will make you the envy of all your buddies.

Frank McGinnis, a brother, and William Green, another actor, were arrested, but were released on bond.

BALLOONS START FROM PARIS ON BIG EUROPE RACE

PARIS, May 14.—Twelve spherical balloons representing France, England, Belgium and Italy took flight from the Tuilleries gardens between 5 o'clock and 6 o'clock this afternoon in the annual race for the grand prize of the Aero Club of France.

There was a slight breeze, blowing from north to northeasterly, and the balloons disappeared, some of them due south and other southwest. The present weather conditions make the landing probable in the Pyrenees mountain region, or perhaps Spain. Lieut. E. de Muyter, Belgium, winner of the Gordon Bennett race in the United States in 1920; Capt. Hirschauer, France, and Maurice Bienaimé, France, are the favorites.

PASTOR SAYS CROOKS HAVE DEFIED CITY

"The criminals have slapped Chicago in the face."

The Rev. Frederick E. Hopkins, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Michigan City, Ind., so expressed himself yesterday in his sermon on respect for law.

"If there are no God-made laws, why obey any law?" he said. "One man can make a law as well as any other if there are no fundamental God-made principles of law."

"The doctrine that every man can make his own law is what has cut throats in Russia, packed the jails with suspects, and slapped Chicago in the face."

ARE WE FOR SEPARATE DISARMAMENT?

Pacifists have urged that the United States disarm, regardless of the existence of armament in other countries and as an example to them. But pacifists do not express the opinion of the bulk of the nation. They are in fact a very small though vociferous minority. More influential and representative are those who always favor so-called economies in expenditure for defense, giving no consideration to the conditions of military or naval efficiency.

Economy at this time is, rightly enough, our watchword. But retrenchment is not a synonym for economy and some retrenchment is not economy. As clear an illustration of that truism as can be had are the cuts in appropriations for the army which passed the house and are now under consideration in the senate.

Take, for example, the cut in the appropriation for the national guard. The experts of the war department and staff estimated that on the basis of the national defense act the guard needed between fifty-five and fifty million dollars. But in view of the pressure for economy, upon consultation with the director of the budget, this total was scaled down to thirty millions as a minimum beyond which we could not afford to go.

In spite of the definite reasoning supporting the expert estimates and the large reduction worked out in the effort to reduce expenditure to the bone, the house proceeded to cut the appropriation for the guard nine millions more, making a sum less than half of the original sum asked for by the men upon whom responsibility for fulfilling the national defense act directly rests.

What would such a reduction mean? The chief of militia affairs and other like Senator Wadsworth, who have given study to conditions of efficient defense, assert that it will prevent the organization of the guard as a modern military force. "Army legislation urged by some members of congress who seem to think by crippling the guard they can accomplish a needed economy," says Senator Wadsworth, "would reduce this important arm of the service to very little more than an infantry organization whose only weapon would be the rifle, and the upkeep of which would be reduced in proportion."

It is true that the infantry is the backbone of the first line, but it is also true that the infantry, under modern conditions of war, would be rendered practically useless without the support of the other combat units—artillery, tanks, aircraft, communication services, engineers, machine gun units, etc.

Thought not to be necessary to tell any congressman that. The conditions of modern warfare are still fresh, we should assume, in every sane memory, and even the most unarmy-minded of civilians learned during the years 1914-1918 something of the ghastly sacrifice of lives that inadequate artillery support and airplane cooperation entails in battle.

And Senator Wadsworth makes another point when he points out that the war proved—as it did in figures of blood—that "if you have only infantry ready when the emergency comes this infantry will have to be held back, may perhaps become stagnated, until the needed auxiliaries have been organized, equipped, and trained."

That means loss of time, and loss of time is not only costly in eventual expenditures of men and money but may well prove fatal. Men like Bryan or Senator Hitchcock willfully ignore the fact that we were able to take the time to prepare, at least partially, in 1917 because we had allies in the field. Another war may find us alone facing a prepared nation with a properly equipped and organized army attacking us.

We can only pray that congress will not commit the folly of destroying the well considered plans for the national defense embodied in the national defense act of 1920. But the false economies, which the house was led to propose, if forced through, will amount to nothing less. They do not represent economy, for they provide for large expenditures on defense without permitting that defense to meet modern conditions of warfare. We shall be disgraced without knowing we are disarmed, the most foolish and dangerous of decisions, for we shall not have a modern army but a machine lacking essential parts and doomed, in case of sudden need, to failure and tragic disaster.

There is no excuse for disarming the United States. World conditions do not justify it. Past experience does not justify it. Our resources do not demand it. The men whose proposals would wreck our army as an efficient modern defense would be more worthy of respect if they took their stand with the pacifists, for their policy leads to the same result.

CRIME AND THE LAW.

What the law abiding majority, the vast majority of decent citizenship, demand at this time from all agencies of the law is vigorous and harmonious action. We think Chief Pitagorria has earned and has got the gratitude of the community for the manner in which he has met the emergency.

made for the benefit of criminals, although our system seems to have made of them a mesh through which the enemy of society escapes while his pursuer is tripped. It is time for our law enforcement to be made what it is intended to be.

Chicago confronts today a crisis in her history. The question is whether men like Murphy, Mader, Shea, and their like are superior to the laws. Their insolence under arrest shows what their experience with Chicago's system of justice has been. What is wanted now is a rebuke for these men, and in the form of a resourceful use of the means available to break the sinister rule of organized crime in this city. This is the responsibility of the judges quite as much as of the police or the prosecutor. As to the law, the decent people of this town demand that it be made for them what it was designed to be, a protection for them and not for those who prey upon them.

THOMPSON AGAINST THE SOUNDRY.

Mayor Thompson's roof has sprung a leak since he has been in the east. At Atlantic City he discussed the Chicago suburbs and said that he had the demand for them traced to its source. He finds the most sinister scheme ever attempted against the car using public. The Chicago Surface Lines, through their agents, are trying to force the use of the city's subway fund to build a subway now.

This raid against public funds, he says, is engineered by the interests, but he has discovered the scheme and will prevent its accomplishment. He says the proper use of the street car fund is to buy the surface line properties.

Mr. Thompson regards the $30,000,000 traction fund as small change and the bonds involved in his financial district scheme as real money. He is not interested in suburbs built by the city with the city council controlling the expenditure of money, but he is interested in bonds and taxes issued by traction trustees controlled by him.

A city built and city controlled subway system would give the city the whip hand over the existing companies in subsequent negotiations. Thompson insists that negotiations shall not be conducted by the council but by a group of gang picked district trustees. That is the issue between Thompson and the city council, and it will be a bad day for the city if the mayor succeeds in taking away from the council the power to supervise Chicago traction.

The danger lies there, and it is becoming more apparent. To attract attention away from it, Thompson says that if the council uses the subway money to give the people rapid transportation it will be a raid on the public treasury. The association of Hyman of New York, Curley of Boston, and Thompson of Chicago has probably been too much for all of them. Our contribution to the triangle is sagging badly.

A CAPITALIST OUTRAGE.

Lenin's inclination to hit the United States, as he goes out of his way to do in his reply to the Genoa demands, is quite understandable. He says we initiated the policy responsible for all the woes which lately have fallen upon the Russian people. To get out from under, when one has made a mess of it, is quite human, and in this case Lenin could not help picking the United States as the chief offender. The United States is the leading capitalist of nations afflicted with a foolish devotion to capitalism and individualism. To this offense it adds the even greater guilt of prosperity. Lenin cannot forgive the American people who insist on making capitalism a success, who insist upon making it work in the teeth of all Lenin's theories so that its people are fed and clothed, are solvent and as happy as humans manage to be in this imperfect world. While bolshevism and Lenin are preading over a starving and bankrupt nation, it is unforgivable for capitalist nations to thrive in defiance of the true doctrine.

A ZEPPELIN FOR U. S.

The ambassadors' council, meeting in Paris, has finally decided that Germany can build a Zeppelin for the United States. This is chronicled as somewhat of a victory for American diplomacy. In reality it is only a compromise, and not such a very creditable one at that, from our point of view.

The news dispatch states that, as provided in the treaty of Versailles, dirigibles were handed over to Great Britain, France, and Italy, and then the crews burned the remaining ones, which were destined for the United States. America demanded that a Zeppelin of 100,000 cubic meters capacity be built to make up for our share of the aircraft destroyed. The allies insisted that the German factories for such construction be destroyed in accordance with the treaty.

The matter has been under discussion for more than a year. Now the best we are to get out of it is one dirigible of 70,000 cubic meters. If that is winning our point our enthusiasm is faint.

Editorial of the Day

SPENDING THE SAVINGS.

[Buffalo Express.] When a man prominent in the savings bank world asks what has become of all the billions that were paid to the American people during the war it reminds one that the question as to the whereabouts of the savings of yesterday is not yet satisfactorily answered. "We savings bankers are trying to convince the American people that they must save a fair share of their income," continues George E. Brock, "if they expect to be independent—the most precious privilege in life. If all of us would resolve to stop envying those who have a little more than ourselves, and make up our minds that we would create our own individual prosperity, we soon could have a greater prosperity than we ever knew."

We are, without doubt, the greatest nation of savers. That fact is hard to reconcile with the savings bankers' philosophy that unless every individual saves "a fair share" of his or her income independence is impossible, or at least improbable. As a nation we're far from thrifty, yet we have less individual poverty, less dire distress, fewer deaths from starvation, fewer persons eking out a livelihood by begging on the streets than is the case in any other country. How do you explain it? Can it be because the people of high earning power live more closely to their incomes than do people of a similar class in other countries? Is it because these spenders keep money moving and thereby make easier picking, more work, for the less capable, the less fortunate, the more impecunious and the more thrifty?

There should, of course, be a greater proportion of earnings reported in savings banks than they are permitted to guard now if people are to reach that position of ease and affluence which is the ideal and the dream of most. But the spending, not merely the spending power, of a people is and always will be a help to prosperity, although it is necessary to watch carefully lest that feature of life in America become overemphasized.

WE LOVE TO HEAR ABOUT IT.

Lady Astor, in New York, before taking a train for Chicago, said: "There's no greater deceiver in the world than drink; I ought to know: I've been drunk." Oh, dear Lady Astor, you are to speak several times in Chicago. When were you drunk? What did you get drunk on? Was it in America? Where did you get it? Oh, please tell us all about it in your talks today. Oh, Lady Astor, in these suffering Volstead days, there is nothing that would be more like music to our ears than for somebody to tell about the time they got drunk. English visitors, right from where they can have all the good, come over here and talk about the war, and novels, and poetry, but you're the first one to get down to brasserie tactics. We can't get drunk any more, but gosh, we would love to hear you talk about it. Was it brandy or half and half? Did you ever take a half a glass of beer, Lady Astor, and fill it up with bourbon? Oh, there was a drink! Lady Astor, about the time you were drunk. And were you still a Lady?

IS IT POSSIBLE OUR M. T. L. PIN WAS COPIED FROM BETA THETA PI?

R. H. L.: You claim the design of the Mu Tau Lambda pin is original. Will you please examine the inclosed drawing of my Beta Theta Pi pin, eighteen years old, and then say again that your pin is original.

R. H. L.: I am NOT a sharpshooter, but I AM a member of Beta Theta Pi, so here's a protest, or rather, one of them. The thing of the design of the College of Heralds is an exact duplicate of our pin, with the change of letters.

Dear R. H. L.: I was once a Beta girl and I still have a warm spot in my heart for the pin. Therefore, I rose up in arms and was bursting with rage this morning when I saw that some unscrupulous person was trying to get away with the Beta Theta Pi emblem for the M. T. L. M. M.

AND EVEN THE SECOND DESIGN IS QUESTIONED!

Sir: The so-called new and original pin which you so proudly announced as the second badge of your Made the Line fraternity is almost as old as the nation. If you'd take off the M. T. L., and put back the Greek letters which stand for Phi Beta Kappa, you would find the very identical emblem that I have been wearing on my watch chain since I was graduated from the University of Chicago.

A RED HEADED PHI BETA KAPPA.

IN WHICH I SLAY THE ROGERS PARK OPERATOR.

Last night I sought the maiden
Who answers by mistake:
"Your party does not answer."
To every call I make.

With kids and trusty broad-axe
And gin and French vermouth
I walked the streets to find her
And slay her in her youth.

I ventured a "good evening";
My companion said we were
"Your party does not answer."
Again that lady said.

I up and fell upon her
And stunned her with my ax.
Then dusting off my deadly kris
I dropped her on her back.

"Who is she?" asked the coppers.
I answered, "I dunno."
The party does not answer.
Or she would tell you so.

In death that lovely maiden
It tickled me to see:
"Your party does not answer."
She'll say no more to me!

REGARDING THIS HERE SURF RIDER.
Several acrimonious letters have been received from persons who followed the tip given in the Columb on the Kentucky Derby and played their money on Surf Rider. We have only to say that, had it not been for a matter entirely out of our control, Surf Rider would have won as we predicted.

On looking over the weather report the day before the race, we noticed that the weather man said that on Saturday the weather for the Mississippi valley would be dry and clear. That convinced us that the rain would fall in torrents at Louisville. We decided to pick a horse calculated to go well on a wet track. Immediately we decided on Surf Rider. If the track had been under water, our horse would have won. But, Surf Rider—misunderstood what sort of a race he was in. He thought it was an endurance contest, and saved himself. He is still running, and only the strongest persuasion will convince him the race is over and that he ought to go back to the barn. If Surf Rider runs in the Derby next year, we are going to put Vangle in.

COULDN'T HE SMELL SOMETHING BURNING?
R. H. L.: Let me tell you of Daddy Stark of the Black Hills. Daddy was known for his ability to start flatfooted and catch a running jackrabbit within from twelve to twenty jumps. One time, after a hard day's tramp, he set down his pack to cook his meal. He had no wood with which to make a fire to fry his bacon, so he touched a match to the prairie grass and held the pan over the flame. He was so intent on keeping his pan over the fire that by the time the bacon was done he was twenty-five miles from where he started.

FORGET-NE-NOT.
Some dear dark night a messenger
From a strange world tell come to me;
Some lone moon night when all the winds
Are playing gruesome melodies.

Some dear dark night—Oh! it will come
As surely as the morning comes!
I'll leave my tools, my work, my play,
And follow that ghostly glow away.

I do not know what awful creature
Of high adventure there shall be;
I cannot tell what nights of pain
Or splendid days are waiting me.

But though I pass to peace or pain,
Deep sorrow or the joys of mirth,
I could not even then forget
One moment spent with you on earth!

THOSE SOUR VEGETABLES.

SO far as we are able to judge, fruits and some vegetables make two acids which are entirely harmless when taken into the human body. They are malic acid and citric acid. In the human system these acids are turned into water, which is eliminated by the kidneys, and carbonic acid, which is thrown off by the lungs. They make some heat and energy.

Their main charm, however, lies in their appetizing qualities. The alkaline human body needs to crave the acid flavor of the fruits as they are eaten, or maybe it needs the alkali which these fruits yield up in the last analysis.

It is somewhat suggestive that while the human body needs acid foods in a dozen different directions, I know of no such demand for any alkaline taste or flavor. From the standpoint of food qualities the fruits furnish minerals and vitamins in the main, merely using these acids for appetizers.

The content of these acids in different foods varies at different periods of ripeness, ripens down in different soils and climates, and by reason of other factors.

Furthermore, no one fruit contains one acid only. In the different fruits the different acids are mixed, and even in varying proportions in the same food. Therefore, the accompanying tables from Kellogg must not be taken for more than they are worth.

MALIC ACID CONTENTS.

Apples—21 to 1.81 per thousand.
Pears—11 to .50 per thousand.
Cranberries—50 per thousand.
Cherries—55 to 1.84 per thousand.
Currants—2 to 3.37 per thousand.
Gooseberries—1.7 to 2.6 per thousand.
Plums—55 to 2.15 per thousand.
This acid is present in strawberries, quince, grape, peach, watermelon, tomato, greens, beet, asparagus, spinach, lettuce, celery.

It is essentially the acid of the fruits having such as peaches, cherries, plums and apples.

CITRIC ACID CONTENTS.

Oranges—4 to 2.5 per thousand.
Lemons—4 to 2.5 per thousand.
This acid is present in grapefruit, cherries, lemons, lemons, elderberries, pomegranate, strawberry, currant, gooseberry, raspberry, cranberry, pear, tomato, radish.

Tartaric acid is not quite so wholesome as the other two mentioned. Nevertheless, in ordinary doses it can be set down as a thoroughly wholesome fruit acid.

The great source of tartaric acid is the grape.

In addition to the above wholesome acids there are certain fruits and vegetables which are not regarded as wholesome. Chief among these is oxalic acid. Oxalates crystals are frequently found in the urine. Oxalate gravel and oxalate stones are among the more frequent varieties of these disorders.

The theory is that when oxalates are eaten in food they are absorbed, but that the human body is incapable of breaking them up into water, carbonic acid and energy, but that, having circulated a while in the fluids of the tissue, they are thrown off by the kidneys. The harm done by them is done principally to the organs which throw them off.

According to this theory a person may stand a small daily dose of oxalate for a fair time without trouble to his urinary organs, but that a massive dose, or too long continuance of a moderate dose, is harmful. Some persons are harmed by small doses.

OXALIC ACID CONTENTS.

Cocoa powder—3.5 per thousand.
Sorghum—2.5 per thousand.
Pepper—3.2 per thousand.
Rhubarb—3.44 per thousand.
Raspberries—3.44 per thousand.
Beet roots—3.2 per thousand.
Spinach—1.9-3.2 per thousand.
Beans—1.81 per thousand.
Currants—1.3 per thousand.
Coffee—1.3 per thousand.
Prunes—1.3 per thousand.
Gooseberry—.07 per thousand.
Tomato—.001 per thousand.

The ordinary serving of pieplant contains three grams of oxalic acid. Benzolic acid is generally classed, along with oxalic, as a harmful vegetable acid. The foods richest in benzoic acid are cranberries, plums and prunes.

THIS CURE IS LIKELY.

A. I. B. writes: "Eighteen months ago my husband went into a sanitarium with all symptoms of advanced tuberculosis—night sweats, chills, temperature 101 to 103 every afternoon, cough with expectoration, loss of weight to 100 pounds."

"He has been home a year, leaving the sanitarium with every sign of improvement, and has been on the mend ever since."

"Lives same as routine at the sanitarium and takes plenty of eggs and milk daily."

"Now weighs 140 pounds; expectorates only slightly in morning and coughs only after exertion. Has normal temperature each day and feels fine."

"1. Can he be arrested in time?"
"2. Can he be permanently cured?"

REPLY.

Speaking generally, the answer is "Yes" to both questions.

VEGETABLES FOR A CHILD.

Mrs. C. C. S. writes: "1. Will you please tell me which vegetables are best to give a child 1 year old?"

"2. Are carrots too heavy to digest for a child that age?"

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

OBJECTS TO TENANTS.
Chicago, May 9.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—In renting a flat to a family of two with the understanding that a large family was not wanted, to occupy the flat can the landlord raise the tenant's rent if the tenant keeps boarders and roomers in addition to the family?

Is a five day notice sufficient to give them to vacate? They rent by the month.

B. G.

Where there has never been an agreement for a longer term, either party can end the tenancy or the landlord can increase the rent at the end of any month of the tenancy of 60 days' notice. There is no legal obligation to assign a reason for such action.

Since the statute merely specifies that the landlord shall have the right to terminate the tenancy by sixty days' notice in writing, the legal effect of an oral notice is not clear.

Under 1921 statutes if tenancy of residence property in a city, town or village discharges notice and landlord sues for possession judge has discretionary power to grant tenant six months' stay of execution upon tenant's giving bond to pay rent at a future date.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

1. Probably; depends on whether the divorce court had jurisdiction and on other facts that are not before us.

2. Not without grounds additional to those stated. Why do you wish to?

3. Probably, if it is illegal.

CHINESE ARMY DRIVES CHANG ON INTO MANCHURIA

British Miners Avert Sunday Battle with Wu.

BY CHARLES DAILEY.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright, 1922, By The Chicago Tribune.]
PAOTINGFU, May 14.—Further fighting was averted today by the intervention of British mining and other foreign interests near Kaiping. Gen. Chang Tso Lin had begun to reform his army at Luan river, whereupon Gen. Wu Pei Fu issued an ultimatum saying that he would attack at noon today unless Gen. Chang evacuated completely. The foreigners persuaded Gen. Chang to quit Chihli province, whereupon Gen. Wu announced tonight that his three divisions east of Tientsin were merely to retain positions until the province has been cleared. Interest now centers on a resumption of movement. Despite announcements to the contrary, the Tribune is assured that Premier Wang Shih Cheng and other new ministers have not assumed office, the reason being a desire to afford President Hsu an opportunity to retire gracefully. Such action will greatly simplify the reunification problem.

Slate for New Role.
Pending the decision of the president, the following ministry slate is proposed at Paotingfu: Foreign, Wu Tingfang; navy, Sah Chem Ping; justice, Wang Chung Wei; war, Chen Chung Ming; education, Tsai Yuan Pei; interior, Wang Chao Ming; agriculture, Shen Hung Yi, and communications, Kaon Hung.

Wellington Koo or W. W. Yen also have been suggested for foreign minister.

As time passes, prospects for a national convention decrease, unless the president retires, in which event the parliament of 1916 will be reconvened to elect a president suitable to the entire nation.

Seeks Work for Soldiers.
Gen. Wu is eager to get his constructive schemes started in order to find employment for the soldiers soon to be disbanded under the Washington pledges.

Stork with a Baby Girl
Delays Train at Cantrall

Springfield, Ill., May 14.—A stork carrying a little mite of humanity last night held up the Springfield bound Chicago, Peoria, and St. Louis train at Cantrall, Ill., while it delivered a baby daughter to Mrs. Lyman Owen of Petersburg, Ill. Mr. Owen and Dr. W. A. Young of Springfield, were in the receiving line. Mrs. Owen and daughter were brought here and taken to a hospital. They were reported doing nicely. The train arrived forty minutes late.

COTTON FAMINE NEAR OWING TO DECREASED CROP

Dallas, Tex., May 14.—A cotton famine threatens in the near future, due to falling production and increased consumption of the crop, official advisers received at the Texas Farm Bureau federation here indicate.

Figures showing the world cotton crop decreased last year from 21,000,000 to 15,000,000 and consumption increased 17,000,000 to 21,000,000 have caused a future in English cotton brokerage circles, the advisers said.

Great concern has been exhibited in the cotton crop during the last few days by English brokers, who are said to be on the verge of a panic over the situation.

They said they were looking for one of the apartment residents, but when he turned to go upstairs they held him up. Diesenhof told police they took a diamond ring worth $250, a stickpin worth $80, and $40 in cash.

Runaway Truck Crushes Baby in Its Carriage

New York, May 14.—[Special.]—An infant was crushed to death in its carriage in the Bronx today by a runaway automobile truck. The truck, laden with carpet, had stood most of the day in front of a garage. How it started is a mystery.

COTTON FAMINE NEAR OWING TO DECREASED CROP

Dallas, Tex., May 14.—A cotton famine threatens in the near future, due to falling production and increased consumption of the crop, official advisers received at the Texas Farm Bureau federation here indicate.

Figures showing the world cotton crop decreased last year from 21,000,000 to 15,000,000 and consumption increased 17,000,000 to 21,000,000 have caused a future in English cotton brokerage circles, the advisers said.

Great concern has been exhibited in the cotton crop during the last few days by English brokers, who are said to be on the verge of a panic over the situation.

RADER, NOTED EVANGELIST, WILL HAVE NEW CHURCH

Former Moody Pastor to Return Here.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.
The Rev. Paul Rader, once famous as a college football player and coach, nimble on his feet
and so quick with a hard punch that a prize fight trainer, Mike Cantwell,
once said that if Rader were not a preacher he would put him up for the pugilistic heavyweight championship
of America, is coming back; that is, he is coming back to Chicago.
His purpose, as expressed in announcements, is to fight the devil and the ropes. To give him a platform
from which to give the devil his due
a new tabernacle
will be erected at the junction of North Clark street and Harrison street, here
at June 15 and his helpers will begin an all summer
campaign, continuing until Labor day,
Sept. 4.

Is an Evangelist.
Mr. Rader resigned as pastor of Moody church last September. He is president of the Christian Missionary alliance. He made a round the world trip holding evangelistic meetings in India and in other countries. Since then he has been an evangelist at large.

George A. Shipp, campaign secretary of the Rader tabernacle enterprise, declared emphatically that Mr. Rader was building the new tabernacle to compete with the Moody church tabernacle, located at North avenue and North Clark street.

"Our new tabernacle is two miles west of the Moody tabernacle and there is room for both," he said. "Mr. Rader is after nothing but getting as many people converted as he can."

Had Little Time.
J. B. Bowles, one of the Moody church officials, declared Mr. Rader's resignation was caused by his inability to give proper time to the work of the Moody church pastorate while president of the Christian Missionary alliance.

"While Mr. Rader gave full time to the pastorate of our church," he said,
"our increase in membership was rapid. For two or three years the increase has been small as Mr. Rader could only give us part time and he preferred to give his attention to evangelistic campaigns."

New Building.
Mr. Bowles said the Moody church intended to erect a church building as

BETROTHED

Miss Alice Moore Harding,
daughter of William P. G. Harding, governor of the federal reserve board, whose engagement to Robert Thompson Pell of New York has been announced. The wedding will take place in June of next year, after
Mr. Pell has completed his course at Harvard.

soon as the property on the Clark street frontage can be sold. "There is a mortgage of $70,000 on the property," he said, "but the Clark street and North avenue corner will sell for enough to pay off the mortgage and enable us to build."

The ground on which the new Rader tabernacle is being built is leased ground and, according to Mr. Shipp, it is not the present purpose to erect on it a permanent church.

FIRE IN LABOR BUILDING.
Fire in the basement of the building at 160
West Washington street, headquarters of the Chicago Federation of Labor, and other unions, proved to be a bunch of old rags which the janitor was burning.

Poslam
rarely fails to stop eczema

The most wonderful thing about Poslam
is how little of it is enough to heal. Often a single 5¢ box will clear away a patch of eczema or similar eruption that has been an itching torment for years!
The first touch of this famous ointment usually cools the fiery skin and gives real, lasting relief.
Try it! (10)

To Follow the Way of Hospitality

THOUGH a house be enticing in Winter when its ruddy lights shine out against the snow, it seems to reach the zenith of its charm now, when its curtains flutter in bewitching breezes from the lake and its cool halls are flecked with sunlight.

It builds this feeling of cordial welcome in a multitude of ways—striped Awnings, for example; or wide Porch Shades and painted Furniture. Here are Iced Tea Sets too, Summer Rugs, Window Boxes, and many other things here—to follow the way of hospitality.

Paintings by Mary Kremelberg

BEGINNING today, the paintings of Mary Kremelberg will be exhibited in the Picture Galleries. Her bold and vivid technique has placed her among the foremost American artists.

Telephone Set
$10.75

THE question of where to put the telephone is capably solved by a Set like this. It has a wide shelf with room for two directories, and comes in mahogany finish.

Eighth Floor, State Street.

A Cane Rocker and Chair

For the Living Room

BOTH Rocker and Chair have cane-paneled wing backs which make them very restful and comfortable. The Rocker has a spring seat covered in various colors, and will be quite suitable for either a bedroom or a living room. Priced at $29.50.
The Chair is of solid mahogany with a cane seat and very graceful arm rests. It is a thoroughly worth-while value at $21.50.

Eighth Floor, State Street.

Casement Cloth Has Many Uses

THE soft natural color of this material makes it very useful for casement curtains and similar things, for it has a cool and restful atmosphere which is quite delightful. A material which launders nicely, it is 50 inches wide and 85¢ a yard.

Fifth Floor, Middle, Wabash.

A Suite Brilliantly Designed

WITH the grace and sophistication of its Louis XVI design, modified to please our present-day ideas, this Bedroom Suite typifies the rather delicate and gay spirit most attractive in one's own room. And the prices make it inexpensive, too.

It is of combination walnut of a beautiful grain, with overlaid burl panels and mahogany interiors. Every line is pleasing, and the pieces are perfectly joined together.

Chiffonade, $110
Chair, $15.75
Vanity Table, $125

Dresser, $150

Wedding Gifts from the Second Floor

IT is traditional that a Wedding Gift should be something really beautiful to put within the bride's new home. And it is a joy to look among these fine wares for the thing you most wish to give. On the Second Floor, Wabash, there are endless suggestions, including especially the productions controlled exclusively by us—Lenox, Wedgwood, Rookwood, Tiffany, Steuben, Glass, and Lamps of our own design.

Particularly fascinating is the engraved Stemware from Czechoslovakia, in ruby, violet and amber. A few of the pieces are shown above. Goblets and Sherbet Glasses are $40 a dozen; Lemonade Glasses, $27.50 a dozen; Finger Bowls, $25;
Finger Bowl Plates, $30; Service Plates, $85, and Salad Plates, $60 a dozen.

Service Plates at Lower Prices

THE annual May Sale of Service Plates brings very considerable reductions to the sort of China most worthy of being presented to a bride.
There are perfect and exquisite Services from Royal Doulton, Crown
Staffordshire, Royal Worcester, Spode Copeland and other famed English potteries. Below are four very fine productions:

The Luncheon Plate
from Ginori has a border

encrusted with gold, and a garland decoration.
Price, $35 a dozen.

Royal Worcester produced the Service Plate with a rose and spray border. Price, $50 a dozen.

A fascinating border of blue and green surrounds
a Royal Doulton Service
Plate. $75 a dozen.

L'Union Ceramique has sent encrusted gold border Service Plates from France. $100 a dozen.
Second Floor, North, Wabash.

Sculptured Marble from Italy

IN the hall or the living room a figure carved from Italian marble is inimitably ornamental. A large number have arrived very recently and are on display near the Antique Section. Some of them portray Joan of Arc, Beatrice, the Reading Boy and Girl, and the Writing Boy. $7.50 to $50.

South, Wabash Avenue.

Gleaming Vases of Alabaster

A CERTAIN stateliness seems to surround a fine Vase of Alabaster, giving it a definite air of the picturesque. There are tall white ones shaped like Grecian urns and carved with dancing figures; and others delicately mottled and polished to a gleaming luster. These are varied in type and size.

Floor Lamps, Special, $35 Complete

THESE three Lamps are among the most remarkable values we have ever been able to procure.

If you are planning a new home or rearranging
the one you are in, the decorative scheme of the living room could effectively evolve around one of them, for they are most effective in design.

The Bases are of carved wood in a simple design
with a dull antique finish.
The Shades of crepe Georgette, finished with a ruche and heavy silk fringe come in various color combinations.

Bridge Lamp
Especially graceful is the Bridge Lamp, with its decorative curved arm.

A Special Selling of Fine Heavy-Gauge Aluminum

IN buying Aluminum, it is very important to consider its quality. This is of the very best grades, marked now at specially reduced prices.

Vegetable Cooker, six-quart capacity, with lock cover and bail handle, $1.

Windsor Kettle, six quart size, with dome cover. Price, $1.

be used as a double Frying Pan, with a curved handle which makes the top and bottom fit snugly
when the Pan is closed, $1.20.

West Floor, Household Utilities.

Junior Floor Lamp

This is the largest of the three Lamps and will be most suitable in a living room. And yet it is small enough to be put nicely in the modern apartment.

Semi-Junior Floor Lamp

The size of this Lamp is very convenient, for it adapts itself well to limited spaces.

Shades and Stands Also Separate

While the price, $35, for the complete Lamp is very special, you may also buy the shades and bases separately if such an arrangement would be more pleasing.

Second Floor, Middle, Wabash.

The Furniture Selling Continues

OF course, the most notable aspect of a large Furniture Selling like this is to be found in its amazing price reductions. For, while Furniture interests everyone for its own sake, it is far easier to indulge that interest if one doesn't have to hesitate because of economic reasons.

The scope of this Selling is its next most important point, since it includes every type of Furniture from a white bench for the garden to wide Sideboards for the dining room.
You will surely pick up just the piece you need most urgently.

Eighth Floor, State and Wabash.

Overstuffed Chair, fine covering materials, and comes in different covers in various colors. When you buy this Chair for $69, you are really not paying for the cover, so specially is it priced.

Eighth Floor, Middle, Wabash.

Windsor Chair or Gate-Legged Table

Would Be Substantial
Wedding Gifts

THESE two Colonial types of furniture are probably the most admirable designs America has ever produced. They are certainly among the most charming.

The Table above is of combination mahogany in a soft brown finish, and has two small drop leaves. It is just the right size for a hall or bedroom or a living room. Price, $35.

An Italian Dining Suite

OF combination walnut with a dull antique finish, there is a particular charm in such a Dining Room Suite. It seems to represent strength, as well as a well rounded poise and perfection of detail. The Table is oblong, 46 by 60 inches, with oblique corners and tapering fluted legs.
And the Chairs have nicely curved arms, shaped backs and blue mohair seats.

However constantly you use your Dining Room, this sort of Furniture will never grow tiresome, for it was built with every care toward developing a permanent worth. The Table extends to 8 feet.

U. S. RESERVOIRS OVERFLOW, BUT GASOLINE SOARS

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)
Washington, D. C., May 14.—[Special.]—While the oil companies have been boosting the price of gasoline to an unprecedented level, the government has been accumulating the greatest stock of this fuel on record.

The nation's gasoline stock on April 1 passed by some 47,000,000 gallons the high record mark of 807,000,000 gallons reported in storage March 1, according to a statistical summary just issued by the bureau of mines. Stocks of 854,232,000 gallons were on hand April 1, a supply of 20 per cent greater than for April 1, 1921, and 36 per cent greater than for April 1, 1920.

More Refineries Today.
The number of operative refineries increased from 236 to 304 during March. The daily average amount of oil run through the stills was 1,390,000 barrels, an increase of 25,000 barrels in the daily average over the preceding month. The refineries in operation show a 79 per cent operative status based on their daily indicated capacities, this being an increase of 3 per cent over the month of February.

Domestic consumption of gasoline for the first quarter of 1922 shows an increase of 7 per cent over the first quarter of 1921, and 25 per cent over the corresponding period in 1920.

Decrease in These Stocks.
Kerosene stocks decreased 10,000,000 gallons during March. Present stocks of kerosene are 125,000,000 gallons less than a year ago; production for the first quarter was less and exports and domestic consumption were greater.

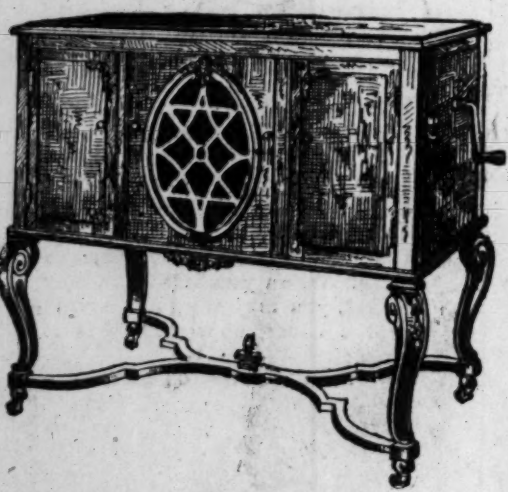

Present stocks of gas and fuel oil are 1,350,378,000 gallons, a decrease of 71,000,000 gallons, as compared with the February reserve. Comparison of the first quarter of this year with a similar period last year shows an increased production of 140,741,000 gallons and an increased domestic consumption of 458,235,000 gallons. Exports and shipments to insure possessions were 65,694,000 gallons less the first quarter this year than last.

The production of lubricating oils shows a daily average decrease of 101,000 gallons, and reserves were reduced to the extent of 18,700,000 gallons during the month, the present reserve being 236,886,000 gallons.

ISADORA DUNCAN AND POET SPOUSE SEEK CASH IN U. S.

BERLIN, May 14.—[United News.]—Isadora Duncan, the famous dancer, who fled the material atmosphere of the United States for the artistic surroundings of Paris and then moved on to Moscow because even Paris lacked appreciation, will return to the United States in the fall with her young post husband and twenty-three children—not their own, however. She will make her tour in the interests of Russian children, she told the United News during a visit to Berlin, and will tell rich America that only America with her wealth is in a position to save the present generation of children in Russia.

Miss Duncan said she had concluded a contract with an American firm to exhibit her own dances and the masses of the twenty-three children whom she has trained in Moscow. "I shall take my young husband with me—the first I ever had—the poet Serge Alexandrovitch Yesenin, whom my friends consider the greatest poet in the world," she said.

REDS OPEN DOORS TO RUSS IN U. S.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
RIGA, May 14.—The soviet government after years of restriction will open the doors of the country to Russians in America, and they may re-migrate to Russia, according to the soviet legislation at Riga, which has received an order to prepare to handle those who return. The decision was made in Moscow by the soviet committee of workers and defense, which is the highest governing body in Russia, following a report made by L. C. A. K. Maartens, former bolshevik representative to New York. He says that 5,000 specialists, 10,000 farmers and 1,000 miners have organized to prepare to return.

The soviet say that they are welcome to Russia, because they will not be a burden to the government in the coming years. The soviet national economy commission has decreed to give gold and platinum mines in the Urals as a concession for three to four years, but the former owners will not be permitted to take the properties under any conditions.

LEAGUE DRAWS SILESIA THORN OUT OF EUROPE

GENEVA, May 14.—[United News.]—Germany and Poland, through the good offices of the league of nations, have ended their dispute over the rich Silesian coal and iron basin.

They will sign a treaty of settlement providing for unified administration of the great industrial district by a mixed commission tomorrow afternoon in the presence of the council of the league of nations.

This is regarded as the greatest achievement of the league, with the possible exception of the international court project, for it brings to an end a dispute which nearly led to war between Germany and Poland, precipitated a local revolution, almost split the allies asunder when Prime Minister Lloyd George and Premier Briand had their famous controversy, and has held back Europe's industrial recovery materially because of the unsettled conditions it caused.

Smaller offices, too, can save money, space and trouble

SAID the head of a small business, "I know Library Bureau can save money for large offices. But all we buy is an occasional supply of folders and cards and once in a great while a filing cabinet. How could you save for me?"

"Right here," said the L. B. salesman, and produced an L. B. Reinforced folder. "This folder not only costs less than the average heavyweight folder, but it saves one-third file space in the cabinets. Result: fewer cabinets; less floor space."

"Down at the fold this folder is medium weight. But the busy handling edge is reinforced with a double thickness strip—an exclusive Library Bureau idea that is saving money for thousands of offices and will save money for you."

No office is too small, none too great for Library Bureau to demonstrate that it can save money in filing and record-keeping. Let an L. B. representative show you.

"The women of the country were the first to demand prohibition," Miss Marbury announced. "They will be the first to demand its repeal. And for the same reason—because they stand for temperance."

LADY ASTOR SAYS ENGLISH AND U. S. WOMEN ARE ALIKE

Civic Leaders Welcome Noted Visitor.

real thinking American women. Their ideals are the same. They work for the single standard of morals, and oppose commercialized vice and prostitution in a way that women in the Latin countries never would think of doing.

In answer to a question as to who are America's most distinguished women, Lady Astor refused to commit herself. "I wouldn't tell if I could pick them out, but I couldn't pick them out even if I wanted to tell," she declared.

Characterizing the modern American newspaper as "one of the greatest signs of progress in United States during the last eight years," Lady Astor said, "Of course you have a few Peggy Joyce and things of that kind; but not nearly so much as there used to be. And your foreign news in America is splendid, much more than anything in England."

A "regular fellow," too, was this M. P. from her greeting to a colored porter who "had come from Virginia, too," to her acceptance of the greetings of Chicago's English people which were given her by Horace D. Nugent, British consul.

Did Not Attend Tea.—Lady and Viscount Astor went at once to the Drake hotel. They did not attend the tea at the Casino club yesterday afternoon given by the English Speaking union in honor of the Hon. Mrs. Alfred Lyttleton, who addressed the meeting.

Interest among the audience was divided between the speaker, who outlined a program of closer affiliation between the two English speaking countries, and in the side door of the club-room through which Lady Astor was expected to arrive.

"Text books of both England and America should be rewritten," asserted Mrs. Lyttleton. "American histories should not begin all things with the revolution, and English histories should remember that the American revolution is a part of England's own history."

She urged the foundation of a fund in this country to enable school teachers to visit rural schools in England, and explained a similar scholarship system in England.

BILLION POUNDS OF CANDY FILL U. S. SWEET TOOTH

Every angle of the confectionery business will be represented during the week of May 22 when representatives gather for their conventions in the Drake hotel. Through the same week a candy show will be held in the Coliseum, where visitors will see the latest devices for manufacturing and marketing confectionery.

Walter C. Hughes, secretary of the National Confectioners' association, said candy is retailed to more different kinds of business than any other commodity. He said a billion pounds of candy are sold a year. The confectionery industry is not the legal heir of the saloon—it rates fifth in the business which gained through prohibition; brewers are becoming candy makers; the total output of candy for 1919 was worth $450,000,000.

How much do you weigh?

At every step, your whole weight comes down on the edge of your heel. And the average man weighs 150 lbs.—takes 8000 steps a day!

Soft paths, springy turf once helped to cushion these shocks. Today, on hard modern floors and pavements, your body gets the full force of the blow. This puts an unnatural strain on even the strongest physique.

Of course, hard leather heels give no relief. Ordinary rubber heels are little better. They are either soft, crumbly rubber that wears down quickly, or so hard and lifeless that you might as well wear leather.

BREAK IN SENATE SEEN THIS WEEK ON TARIFF BILL

Washington, D. C., May 14.—(Special.)—After having had smooth sailing thus far, nearly all the Republican senators standing by its recommendation, the senate finance committee may receive some bumps during this week's consideration of the tariff bill in the senate.

Prospects are that a sufficient number of Republicans will break away to overturn the action of the committee on a number of matters, particularly in the case of commodities in which western senators are interested.

The first test of strength is likely to come on cyanide. The fight on the proposed duty of 10 per cent on cyanide led by Senator Pittman (Nev.), Democrat, and by his Republican colleague, Senator Odell. A number of other western Republican senators will join with them in an effort to restore cyanide to the free list.

Cyanide is used in refining gold and silver and also fumigating purposes in growing citrus fruits. The duty on cyanide was placed in the bill by the finance committee, although the house ways and means committee had left it on the free list.

It is designed to provide protection for a single company with plants in New Jersey and New York, which formerly were German owned and now besides being the only American manufacturer has the exclusive agency for cyanide of German manufacture. The American company fears the competition of a Canadian plant.

It is possible that the question of protection for the American dye industry will come up this week. The paragraphs containing duties on dyes have been passed over temporarily, with an understanding that an agreement will be reached for consideration of these sections and also of the embargo provisions simultaneously.

QUAKER STATE TO HOLD PRIMARY WITHOUT A BOSS

Philadelphia, Pa., May 14.—Republican voters of Pennsylvania will go to the polls on Tuesday in one of the most interesting primaries of the Keystone state in a generation. It will be the first time in nearly fifty years that the Republicans have gone into a fight to settle party differences without a Cameron, a Matthew Stanley Quay, or a Boies Penrose to guide the destinies of the regular organization.

All political parties of the state will select candidates to be voted for in November. The contest of overshadowing interest is that for the Republican nomination for governor between Attorney General George E. Alter and Clifford Pinchot, former state forestry commissioner.

A valuable new office handbook —a yardstick for measuring the right grade of bond paper for each business need

LETTERHEADS and office forms to be ordered! Several hundred papers from which to choose! Which one combines the necessary longevity, opacity and weight—with the lowest cost?

Typewriter papers! Which will best stand erasure, make the best carbons—at a price?

In almost every business organization, expensive papers are being used where quality is least necessary. Important letterheads, by which the whole prestige and standing of a firm are often judged, are on cheap stock. Permanent records are yellowing and crumbling away. In every department, the usual care in buying is lacking when it comes to paper. Yet there are many concerns whose annual paper purchases run into the tens of thousands of dollars.

A book that solves the problem
In the past, the thousands of overlapping brands and grades of paper on the market have made intelligent paper buying almost impossible—even for an expert. No one manufacturer has made a full well-balanced range—a paper for every need.

Today, out of this chaos has come what is being seized upon as the first definite measure for paper content and value—the first guide in buying.

The whole long list has been boiled down into a master line of nine papers—the Eagle-A Specification Bonds. Every real difference in grade! Every price level! Every necessary weight, color and size!

Showing which of these nine papers should be used for each business need, a remarkable new book has been prepared. This book, pictured above, is called "The Correct Use of Bond Papers for Business Purposes." It analyzes, in ready reference form, the qualities a paper must have for each business need—each type of letterhead, each office or factory form, each kind of direct-by-mail matter.

In a tenth the time—with the assurance you are getting the one right paper—with the knowledge that large scale production has given you the best value—your paper selection is made.

START today to work with your Printer, Lithographer, Stationer or Engraver in putting your paper buying on a sound basis. He has already demanded an intelligent standard for selection. Get his advice on specifying the right Eagle-A Bond for each requirement. Call him up today and ask him to send you a copy of the book. It will open your eyes to wastes and inefficiencies which perhaps you never before realized.

MILLIONS SAVED BY RADIO FIRE FIGHTING PLAN

Report Forest Blaze Via Air Route.

BY CHARLES SLOAN.

One of the most unique yet important services to humanity which can be credited to radio is in saving hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of standing timber from fire ravage every year, according to officials of the United States forest service, whose yearly report has recently been made public.

In former years wigwagging and other methods of signaling were used at the various lookout stations in the big forest. These gave place to heliographing, which in turn was supplanted by the telephone.

Then came radio—and its companion in this industry, aviation. Officials of the service decided on the equipment of numerous airplanes with radio transmission outfits and the installation of like apparatus in the forest headquarters.

The scheme was a success from the first day, when it is said that more than twelve individual fires were reported within twenty minutes after the planes left their headquarters. Now the air-radio service has been expanded to cover every part of the forest organization's network of stations all over the country.

The planes are equipped with 125 watt, 500 cycle transmitters. The generator and exciter are driven by a small air turbine mounted on the plane wing. The rest of the apparatus, a transformer, condenser and inductance, are all mounted in the fuselage. The key and antenna ammeter and the receiving set are the only apparatus in the operator's cockpit.

The antenna is a lead weighted single strand wire which is unwound from a reel by the operator after the plane is in the air. When the plane is landing this antenna is rewound. The ground connection is made to the case of the airplane motor.

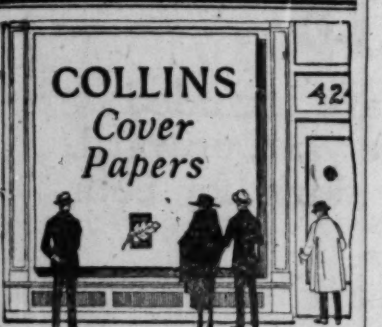

A fire is reported in a message that reads something like this: "FFFFF—FFF—NT123-R54-S12—S14R-T-S1—WEN."

Deciphered it reads: "Fire! Fire! Fire! New! (or in Old) Township 123, range 54, section 12, size 14 square rods. Timber. Slope, level. Wind 45 miles an hour north." This gives the receiving office an accurate word picture of the location and size of the blaze and the obstacles which the service must overcome in extinguishing it. Sixty per cent of the forest fires reported to the service last year were handled either directly or indirectly through radio, it is said.

Two new government pamphlets are announced on radio. The first "Elementary Principles of Radio Telegraphy and Telephony" is a booklet of seventy-nine pages. The second, "Elementary Electricity" of fifty-two pages, contains thirty-seven explanatory figures. Both are good. The first may be obtained for 10 cents and the second for 15 cents from the superintendent of documents, government printing office, Washington.

HOLLAND BANKER AND GIRL, 18, HELD AT IMMIGRATION

New York, May 14.—(Special.)—H. Teixeira de Mattos, member of Teixeira de Mattos Bros. of Amsterdam, the largest banking institution in Holland, was detained by immigration inspectors last night when the steamship Ryndam reached Hoboken.

The inspectors also held Miss Mildred Collins, 18, who said she was a dancer. Officers of the ship said Miss Collins and the banker occupied adjoining staterooms.

Immigration inspectors asserted that the banker admitted paying her fare, but that he had insisted there was nothing irregular about it, as she was coming across on a visit and so was he. Teixeira tried several times to gain his release, and sent many messages ashore.

Teixeira is said to be on a visit to James Speyer and his brother, Edgar Speyer. Neither of the Speyers could be reached tonight. A special board of inquiry will examine the case.

THE SECRET OF WANT AD SUCCESS

Where Most of the Money Is

NO MAN has yet been able to determine with accuracy just where interest in advertising begins or ends. Does it begin with the $1,000 to $2,000 income? It would seem natural, because the lower the income the more important it is carefully to measure expenditures—to make each dollar do a full dollar's duty.

Does it end with the $15,000 or $20,000 income class? That would seem natural, too, because such an income permits indulgence without serious attention to each item of expense.

Does it reach the height of attention value somewhere between these two? In a class where reasonable income covers every real need and some more or less extravagances?

However the advertiser feels about it, here are some facts for him to consider: 36.2% of all the people in this country have incomes ranging between $1,000 and $2,000. 29.4% reach $3,000. 13.9% are in the $4,000 class. Only 8.2% earn between $4,000 and $5,000, and so on until we find only 1.2% receiving between $15,000 and $25,000 a year. Above that, to the highest reported income, and including them all, the big incomes represent only 1.1% of the total earning power of the nation!

A serious problem for the advertiser who has something to sell to a lot of people! If he strikes the right answer he will certainly incline towards Mass. When he does that he will use Mass Circulation (of the kind the CHICAGO EVENING AMERICAN offers) and in using it he will be sure to reach all of the so-called class that can be influenced by advertising.

This much is certain: Amount of income has nothing whatever to do with a man's appetite for pancakes, and a millionaire can wear only one collar at a time

Arrange Stage to Resemble English Home for Lady Astor

Mrs. Borden and Mrs. Chaucery McCormick, who are responsible for the stage settings and other decorative features for the gala affair, which is to be Lady Astor's formal welcome to Chicago, have contrived to give the stage the appearance of a comfortable library in an old English home.

Blair have this feature in charge, and they also have arranged the musical program for the luncheon in the Ellipse room of the Congress hotel, which will precede the meeting. Mrs. Alfred Lyttelton, a member of Lady Astor's party and one of the most distinguished women in England. Rain was falling steadily as the guests arrived, but inside all was bright and springlike, and by the time Mrs. Lyttelton had finished her address the sun was shining, and tea was served to many of the guests on the terrace.

Mrs. James W. Morrison presided at the tea table, which was decorated with pink roses and lilies. Receiving with Mrs. Lyttelton were the president, A. N. Marquis, Mrs. Silas H. Brown, and Mrs. Frank Hamilton Scott.

Among those who attended were Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick, Mrs. Joseph G. Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. Loring W. Coleman, Mrs. C. B. Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Houghton, Jr., Mrs. Walter S. ### Yesterday Ushered in Close of Sunday Afternoon Recitals

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Sunday afternoon recitals pretty well brought themselves to the end of the season yesterday. A few sporadic cases may still become audible, but in general the musical activities between now and next October will take a different form.

Daphne Edwards, pianist, was one of the validitarians, appearing in recital at the Playhouse. A Chopin group took important position in the middle part of her program, and this she played with the evident idea of dissociating it from all saccharine sentimentality, a not unworthy motive and at times successfully attained. Where breadth of manner was desirable she did well; where it was not, there was an occasional muscular surplus; the Fantasia Impromptu was played according to a version not available to the general public and not on all accounts an improvement on the edition commonly known.

Helene Kieley Bartlett, a newcoming soprano, assisted by the violinist, Fritz Benk, gave the other recital at the Grand Opera house. Mr. Benk led the program. With Otto Beyer he played the Niels Gade Sonata for violin and piano, op. 31, a gentlemanly work performed with suavity and excellent finish.

Miss Bartlett began her section of the recital with the "Ballade" in F major, op. 39, No. 1, by Chopin. She was a mezzo-soprano new to Chicago. She is Yvonne Leary, and she will probably be heard from. She has a rather unusually fine voice. The other soloists were Anna Burmeister, Mark Oster and G. Magnus Schutz.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

All for Naught.

No so long ago I was a newly made Camp Fire girl, eager to follow all the laws. Out sweeping the walk one morning I noticed a rather oddish, stout woman running as fast as she could, going west. From the north a street car was coming. She had nearly half a block to run and two streets to cross—the car stop was on the opposite corner—and I saw that she never could make it. I was young and not fat; here was a chance to give service. So away I went, wildly waving my broom in front of the approaching car. It stopped. The motorist, after a glance at me, aped the woman, now running furiously, and waited; the conductor looked on, likewise the passengers. On she came, across the street, past the car, past me, into the next block. Motorist and conductor growled, passengers laughed, the car went on, and I—well I was embarrassed—I think never more so.

That Settled It.

My husband, who is a merchant, has always been strong for demonstration, arguing that any article of merit should stand the test of time. Some years ago, when glass washboards were in vogue, his method was to take the washboard, toss it carelessly on the floor, step on it, then tell his little story. To clinch the argument he would jump on the board with all his weight.

He had given the demonstration perhaps a hundred times when, in the middle of the final act, a crack was heard and the glass smashed in a thousand pieces.

Silver Stitching Features this White Gown.

NEW YORK.—(Special Correspondence.)—Putting an upper deck on the décolleté seems to be one of the favorite pastimes of the spring designers of evening clothes. The fact of it is that the latest evening gowns display great decorum of sentiment, and one is struck by the absence of the extremely low cut bodices. Particularly in the back do we find the material drawn up high. Another feature to be remarked in the spring collections is the popularity of the square cut bodice.

Of white crepe gowns there is practically no end, and at present the most popular completion of this type of gown seems to be some touch of silver. Here we have a white crepe gown with satin touched off with silver stitching and finished at one side by a silver flower centered with flame color satin. Silver tassels depending from the bands dropped from the shoulders are the final assertion of the metallic issue. On the white evening gown for summer black lace has also scored great success. Thus we encounter one of Jenny's crepes finished with a cape of finest black mesh. Another stunning model of snowy charmisse is draped all over with black Chantilly.

Bright Sayings of the Children

LONGS ON WHEAT SELL ON BULGES; PRICES HIGHER

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Leading holders of May wheat are selling on all sharp bulges and apparently giving the market support on breaks when a little buying is needed. Eastern interests are the most active in trading, while the largest local holder of May wheat is doing little but paying for grain delivered on May contracts.

So far this month wheat deliveries aggregate 4,700,000 bu. and receipts for the last two weeks aggregate 2,225,000 bu. of which 2,045,000 bu. came last week and included $7,000 bu. No. 2 red brought here from Buffalo for delivery purposes. Shipments for the two weeks aggregated 975,000 bu.

There has been a big evening up of May trades, and people who watch the market closely say they believe there is a large open interest. There are sixteen more business days this month and the trade will not be surprised at anything the May wheat may do.

The leading interests who have been active in bringing more than 2,000,000 bu. cash wheat to Chicago from western markets of late have sufficient cash wheat to fill all their short sales of May.

Foreign Situation Stronger.
Within the last few days the foreign situation has hardened and export buying is large, both in the nearby and new crop wheat. Milling business has been restricted and the domestic flour trade is slow, while a fair export business is under way. Millers have light stocks of wheat and consumers are generally supposed to have small supplies of flour, although the latter aggregate 3,371,000 bbls on May 1, against 1,831,000 bbls last year in the United States and Canada.

Prospects for the winter wheat crop have improved. The government report suggests 575,000,000 bu. or 12,000,000 bu. more than in April and only 2,000,000 bu. less than harvested last year and the five year average. While reports from the southwest are generally good there are scattered claims that wheat that failed to germinate before Feb. 1 is not doing well. Spring wheat seedling, although late in the northwest and in western Canada, is nearly completed and the crop is doing well. In Europe prospects are fair.

Longs Sell on Bulges.
For the present there is a disposition on the part of local traders to sell July wheat on all bulges around $1.27 and September above $1.20, while the May was to be had liberally at $1.45 and over. The disposition is to look for a two sided market on the new crop futures and for an erratic action of May prices. Despite efforts on the part of those who are bearish to keep prices down, closing trades on May Saturday were at $1.48 1/2, a gain of 5/8 c for the week. July was 1/8 c higher and September 1/16 c higher for the week. Prices for the week follow:

Corn Planting Under Way.
Corn planting is being pushed all over the leading states where possible and a good part of the acreage has been put in. Low lands are too wet for plowing and planting, and unless there is an immediate change for the better acreage on low lands will be reduced.

The trade on the whole is not looking for a large acreage or a big crop this year, as three consecutive large crops of corn are seldom in order. Those who believe in the latter are disposed to buy on breaks and predict higher prices. The movement has been unusually large for this season, despite the fact that feeders are paying relatively higher prices for corn in the interior than can be secured at terminal markets. In parts of Iowa corn is being shipped in at 10c a bu. as the crop has been largely consumed. Prices had a range of 1/4 to 1/2 c for the week and closed with losses of 1/4 c on the near deliveries and a gain of 1/4 c on September. Week's prices follow:

Exporters Buy Oats.
The long looked for export demand for oats is appearing in fair volume with sales of around 1,000,000 bu. in Chicago last week. Foreigners mostly want 34 lb. clips and are also buying some Canadian oats.

Deliveries at Chicago have aggregated 5,715,000 bu. so far for this month and receipts have been above the average. There have been no May deliveries at Winnipeg and May there is 18c above Chicago.

May closed Saturday at 27c, July 30c, September 40c, or unchanged to 1/2 c lower for the week. Prices follow:

Francisco Sugar.

M. B. G.—The Francisco Sugar company is a New Jersey corporation which, with its subsidiary, the Compania Azucarera, El Estero, owns or controls 159,000 acres of land in Cuba, of which about 64,000 acres are now planted in cane. The company is issuing $5,000,000 twenty year 7 1/2 per cent bonds secured by a closed first mortgage on all fixed properties of the company and by pledge of $2,500,000 stock of the subsidiary. The properties of the two companies have an estimated value of $12,500,000, or two and one-half times the amount of these bonds. The proceeds from the sale of this issue will be used to call the $1,212,300 first mortgage bonds now outstanding and to fund current indebtedness and supply working capital. Earnings for ten years to June 30, 1921, before depreciation and taxes, averaged over four times maximum annual interest charges on these bonds and over two and one-half times such charges and sinking fund requirements. Greater production of sugar is expected for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1922. A sinking fund is provided to retire the entire issue by maturity. The bonds offer an attractive investment for the funds of a business man.

Louisville and Nashville Terminal.
G. F.—The Louisville and Nashville Terminal company first class is a first lien on terminals at Nashville, Tenn., including Union passenger and freight station, about thirty-two miles of track, and thirty-five acres of land; also an additional land lease. There are $2,500,000 outstanding. They are due Dec. 1, 1923. They are guaranteed jointly and severally as to principal and interest by the Louisville and Nashville and the Chattanooga and St. Louis railways, which companies have a lease on the property for ninety-nine years from 1896. These bonds are a conservative investment.

Shipment of Lard and Meats Last Week.
Shipments of lard and meats last week increased nearly 2,000,000 lbs. but were 13,000,000 lbs. under last year's, the largest reduction being in meats. Closing trades were at losses of 5c on lard and gains of 7 1/2 c on ribs, the latter on July. Prices for the week follow:

Provision Situation Unchanged.
The provision situation has changed little within a week. Trade in meats is slightly improved and there is more lard moving out. Small packers are hedging the product of their houses and furnish a fair supply of July. Hog supplies are ample and the spread between the highest and lowest prices is narrow.

LEHIGH VALLEY EARNED $8.29 A SHARE IN 1921

New York, May 14.—[Special.]—The Lehigh Valley railroad, in its annual report for 1921, shows net income after all deductions of $7,785,066, equivalent to approximately $8.29 a share earned on the $60,501,700 outstanding common stock of $50 par value. In 1920 the company reported net income of $1,598,963, equivalent to about $2.63 earned on the common stock.

The Lehigh Valley is one of the few transportation systems which thus far have reported a greater expenditure for maintenance of equipment last year than in 1920. The increase amounted to $1,497,714, making a total of $25,138,717 for 1921. Maintenance of way and structures, however, was scaled down from $11,796,034 in 1920 to $7,785,611 in 1921. Total operating expenses, the report shows, were reduced $12,785,062 during the year.

The outstanding items of operation during 1921, as compared with 1920, are shown in the following table:

1921. 1920.
Gross income ..... $74,929,913 $75,253,861

Tot. deduct. from inc. 8,430,753 9,979,378
Net income ..... 9,788,066 1,598,963

In the general balance sheet as of Dec. 31, 1921, current assets are shown at $21,440,770, of which cash was $6,675,601; miscellaneous accounts receivable, $1,865,947; material and supplies, $6,318,085; and interest and dividends receivable, $3,442,644.

Total current liabilities amounted to $11,080,800, of which audited accounts and wages payable stood at $7,712,862, miscellaneous accounts payable $47,254, and unmatured dividends declared $1,061,410.

TRADE REVIVAL NOW IS GREATER THAN ALL TIME

Revival of business after previous depression in the United States has never equaled the present progress being made, according to the midmonth Business Bulletin of the Cleveland Trust Company, which will be issued today. An evidence the bank gives the new high record for building construction, the rapid upturn in iron and steel production, the advance of securities since last August, and the unexpected and vigorous comeback of the automobile industry.

"New building construction undertaken during the first quarter of 1922 constitutes a new high record," says the bank. "Its total in twenty leading cities is more than three times as much as the average for the corresponding months in the last twenty years."

"Automobile manufacturing has come back with a vigor not anticipated."

AMERICAN MANGANESE COMPANY

First Mortgage 7% Convertible Sinking Fund Gold Bonds

Dated May 1st, 1922 Due Serially May 1st, 1927 to May 1st, 1936

Coupon Bonds in denominations of $1,000, $500 and $100. Interest payable May 1st and November 1st. Callable as a whole or in part on 60 days' notice at 105 and interest after May 1st, 1923.

Convertible at the option of the holder of these bonds into the Common Stock of the Company at par upon written notice to the Trustee.

CHICAGO TRUST COMPANY, TRUSTEE

The following information has been summarized from a letter by Norman E. Brokaw, President of the Company:

Business and Property: The American Manganese Company owns and controls some of the largest known deposits of Manganese Ore in America, comprising over 1,230 acres of selected land in the famous Batesville-Cushman district of Arkansas.

The permanency and stability of the Steel Industry also guarantees the permanency and stability of Manganese, which is a very important and vital component part of steel manufacture. As this country produces only one-fifth of the domestic requirements of this basic metallic element, the American Manganese Company is assured of a profitable and continuous operation of its plants.

Security: These bonds are secured by a First Mortgage lien upon all of the Real Estate, Plants and Equipment directly owned or hereafter acquired by the Company.

Conservative appraisals made by the Hon. Benedict Crowell & Crowell, Engineers and Metallurgists, Cleveland, Ohio, formerly Asst. Secy. of War in President Wilson's Cabinet, and Col. Henry A. Allan, for 12 years Chief Engineer for Allis Chalmers and now Consulting Engineer for the City of Chicago, places the value of these properties at almost four times the amount of this bond issue.

Purpose of Issue: The proceeds of this issue of bonds will be used for constructing new modern mills, thereby greatly increasing present output, enabling the Company to take on additional business which has now to be declined.

Earnings: Shipments the past six years to such concerns as the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company, the Sloss Sheffield Iron & Steel Company, the American Steel Foundries, etc., have produced earnings of 10% on the capitalization. When new construction is completed (now under way) shipments will be increased to approximately 1,800 tons per month. On the basis of present cost of operation, which will be materially reduced when new construction is completed, the net revenue will be $216,000 per year, or more than 12 times the interest requirements and more than five times the combined annual interest and serial payments required for the retirement of these bonds at maturity.

Sinking Fund: The Trust Indenture requires that out of every ton of Manganese shipped, $2.00 per ton must be deducted and deposited with the Trustee.

MORVICH'S VICTORY IN THE KENTUCKY DERBY.
The picture shows the finish of the great classic at Churchill Downs on Saturday. Morvich, ridden by Johnson, and wearing No. 4 on its saddlecloth, is a length and a half ahead. Bet Mosie, No. 7, is in second place. John Finn, No. 1, which took show money, is partly obscured by Bet Mosie, and in turn partly hides Deadlock, No. 6, which finished in fourth place. A few of the 70,000 spectators who saw the race run and won are shown in the background.
